DETAILED ACTION

Response to Election Requirement

1. The response to Election Requirement filed on 8/1/2008 has been entered. Group I (claims 1-22 and 24) has been elected.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, filed 04/18/2008, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1 and 12 under 35 USC 103(a) has been fully considered and is persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Farlow et al. (US 7,072,693).

Claim Objections

3. Claim 24 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 12. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

- Claims 12 and 24 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as not falling within one of the four statutory categories of invention. While the claims recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, a statutory "process" under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to another statutory category (such as a particular apparatus), or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing (Reference the May 15, 2008 memorandum issued by Deputy Commissioner for Patent Examining Policy, John J. Love, titled "Clarification of 'Processes' under 35 U.S.C. 101"). The instant claims neither transform underlying subject matter nor positively tie to another statutory category that accomplishes the claimed method steps, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.
6. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph as being a single means claim, i.e., where a means (array antenna transceiver) does not appear in combination with another recited element of means with under breadth. The single means claim which covered every conceivable means for achieving the stated purpose was held nonenabling for the scope of the claim because the specification disclosed at most only those known to the inventor. See MPEP §2164.08(a).

7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

- With regard claim1, the claim reciting an element in means- (or step-) plus-function language fails to comply with 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, because the specification does not disclose adequate structure (or material or acts) for performing the recited function is closely related to the question of whether the specification meets the description requirement in 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. See In re Noll, 545 F.2d 141, 149, 191 USPQ 721, 727 (CCPA 1976).

Examiner's Interpretation

8. With regard to claim 1, Examiner holds "means for grouping" does not invoke 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph, because the claim further provides a list of the structure underlying the means and the detailed recitation of the structure for performing the grouping function removes this element from the purview of 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

9. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

10. Claims 1, 12 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Farlow et al. (US 7,072,693).

- With regard claim 1, Farlow et al. discloses an array antenna transceiver (Fig.2A element 200 and column 2 lines 7-21) for performing broadband transmission by a multicarrier, comprising:

means for grouping (Fig.2A element 211 and Fig.5 element 500) all subcarriers (Fig.2B element 207 output and Fig.5 element 207 output and column 6 lines 9-16) into a plurality of subcarrier groups (Fig.2A element 211 output and Fig.5 elements 212-214 outputs) and calibrating a transmission route for each group (Fig.5 element 504 and column 6 lines 17-21).

Where Fig.5 and column 6 lines 17-21 of Farlow's reference specifically teaches that the calibration coefficients, $c_{i,k}$, where $i = 1, \dots, M$ and $k = 1, \dots, N$, are used to calibrate each spatial channel. The calibration coefficients are applied in the frequency domain to compensate for frequency-selective amplitude and phase errors. Since the calibration is done for each spatial channel, it is inherent that the transmission route for each group is calibrated.

- With regard claims 12 and 24, which are method claims, respectively, related to claim 1, all limitation is contained in claim 1. The explanation of all the limitation is already addressed in the above paragraph.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 13-22 are objected to as being dependent upon an objected claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

12. Reference(s) US 7,139,322 is cited because they are put pertinent to the multicarrier transmission system. However, none of references teach detailed connection as recited in claim.
